[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] concluded by describing the growing chaos in Saigon and at the Embassy during the mission's last hours, which culminated in his hurried departure from the Embassy roof aboard a helicopter bound for an American aircraft carrier offshore. It was a harrowing flight.

With a hushed audience, Mr. Walsh expressed his gratitude to [REDACTED] for their valiant efforts during very difficult times and for their coming to share their experiences with members of the Executive Council.

3. Mr. Walsh briefed on the current status of graduates of the CIA Senior Seminar.

4. Mr. Walsh reported that on 19 May the Rockefeller Commission was to begin drafting its conclusions and recommendations, which should be ready by about 5 June.

5. With regard to the Senate Select Committee, Mr. Walsh reported that:

a. Since the "monitors" concept was turned down by the Committee, the CIA will not allow anyone to testify until it has had a chance to study the decision.
